

Annual Scientific Conference of Asia-Pacific Association of Medical Toxicology 2023

APAMT 2023 was conducted on 7th to 9th November. A first of a kind simulation based toxicology workshop was conducted in Skills Lab of Sree Gokulam Medical College on 6th November.

APAMT 2023 annual conference held

The 31st annual scientific conference of Asia Pacific Association of Medical Toxicology (APAMT 2023) concluded on Friday. The conference featured a one-day workshop on Toxicology Simulation at Institutional Skills Lab of Sree Gokulam Medical College. The workshop provided hands-on experience using state-of-the-art facilities.

During the conference, Dr. Manojan K, Vice-Chancellor of Sree Gokulam Medical College & Research Foundation emphasized the significance of well-structured emergency departments in the integration of acute toxicology care. Dr. Shreya G Menon highlighted the importance of global networking and knowledge sharing for the improvement of toxicology care in her address.

Dr. Ashish Bhatia, head of department of emergency medicine at PUMSK, Chandigarh, and organizing chair person of APAMT 2023, as well as Dr. Hossein Banaian, president of APAMT and Dr. Vishwanathan, head of department of emergency medicine at Government Medical College, Tiruvandrum participated, too.

